

Lucia Paulíková is an international relations expert active in the field of public health as a crisis manager since the COVID-19 pandemic. Before working at the Public Health Authority of the Slovak Republic, she gained experience in interparliamentary diplomacy as a part of international relations team of the National Council of the Slovak Republic, as well as a project manager of international projects in private sector. Active in a number of non-governmental organisations in Slovakia and in the Czech Republic, she has acquired a significant amount of experience helpful for her vocation. Lucia Paulíková is a head of International Relations Department at the Public Health Authority of the Slovak Republic since February 2021.